The Tübingen Faculty of Medicine and University Hospital are part of the University of Excellence Tübingen. They provide medical services at the highest level and cover the entire spectrum of modern medicine, research, teaching and clinical care.

The Faculty of Medicine at the University of Tübingen, Institute of Health Sciences, invites applications for a position as within the School of Health Sciences Tübingen – Esslingen. The position is available immediately.

The central task of the successful candidate is to contribute to the further development of the academic nursing degree programme (B.Sc.) and the corresponding master's degree programmes, complemented by collaboration in interprofessional educational formats at the Tübingen Faculty of Medicine. Active participation in existing and planned research networks, in the development of new (inter)national research networks in the context of the School of Health Sciences as well as active contribution to the graduate schools of the Tübingen Faculty of Medicine Tübingen are expected.

Proof of relevant experience in the field of Health or Nursing Science, including corresponding competitive third-party funding, as well as didactic aptitude, is expected. Further, national and international networking and research experience as well as training and experience in a nursing profession are required; German state licensing for a nursing profession or the prerequisites for licensing are mandatory.

In the field of teaching, involvement and comprehensive experience evaluated as outstanding are expected, as well as active design of lectures and other teaching formats, particularly in view of innovative curricula in the degree programs taught at the Tübingen Faculty of Medicine. The position has a teaching load of nine hours per week (during semester).

Required qualifications include a PhD or equivalent international degree and postdoctoral qualifications equivalent to the requirements for tenure.

The degree programmes are conducted at the Institute of Health Sciences at the School of Health Sciences Tübingen-Esslingen together with the Esslingen University of Applied Sciences. Close cooperation is expected.

The University of Tübingen is particularly interested in increasing the number of women in research and teaching and therefore strongly encourages women candidates to apply. In line with its internationalization agenda, the university welcomes applications from researchers outside Germany.

Applications from equally qualified candidates with disabilities will be given preference.
